Big Days: State, Regional, Seasonal, Non-Motorized & County

Illinois Big Days (by month)

Big Day rules: 95% of all species must be ID'd by all observers. There were a number of significant Big Day tallies achieved in 2005. The third best tallies ever recorded were set for January (Litteken-McMullen), February (Mountjoy), August (Stotz) and November (Stotz). Congratulations to those birders! One of the best listing achievements of 2005 was the new August Big Day record set by the Kassebaum-Mahan team. Their total blew away the old August record by 13 species! Putting their tally in perspective, outside of April/May Big Days, this is the 3rd highest tally ever for any other Illinois Big Day attempt. One last Big Day needs highlighting. The Frohlich-Kleen-McKay team recorded 176 species on their May Big Day. This is the 2nd highest Big Day tally in Illinois history and it was done in two regions not normally associated with record Big Day tallies. -Eric Walters

Top Monthly Big Days in 2005

As promised last year, we now will include this new annual list, which highlights the very best Big Day for each respective month. Congratulations to Doug Stotz, who had 4 months with the highest species tallies. There are months with no representation this year, but hopefully that will change next year. -EW

Top Five per Month by Region (top ten in May)

There's plenty of room for growth in some region/months for the Big Day regional records. February Big Day records were set for the Central (Mountjoy) and Northern (Cruikshank-Stotz) regions. Also, there's a new Northern August record (Stotz) along with the aforementioned multi-region August record (Kassebaum-Mahan). As well, November's Northern region has a new top tally (Stotz). The biggest news for this list came out of the aforementioned 2nd highest multi-region May Big Day attempt. All but 2 species were recorded in Northern Illinois. Thus, their 174 breaks a six year old alltime Northern Illinois Big Day record. Congratulations to the Frohlich-Kleen-McKay team for setting this new regional Big Day record! -EW

Non-motorized Big Days

If someone mentioned to you that a new Illinois Big Day record was set this year, would you believe it? Well, probably unbeknownst to everyone, Doug Stotz set the 'walking' Illinois Big Day record when he listed 87 species on May 15th. Perhaps there are some old records from listers that would come close or exceed this new record. If so, let us know. -EW
