Total Counties per Species List - Northern Region

(Top five totals per species - 24 possible counties)

The regional TCPS lists give birders a chance to compete in multi-county listing without committing to birding the entire state. The Northern Region is particularly compact, with only 24 counties, so it is perhaps not surprising that 114 species have been 'closed out' (seen in all of the counties) by at least one birder – an increase of three species over 2013. However, it can still be a challenge to find some of these birds in every county, and there are 27 species that only a single observer has managed to close out. Most often this has been Doug Stotz, who has been the sole observer to close out 15 of these species! New names are appearing though in the list of birders who have closed out one or more species in this region, such as Joe Lill and Nathan Goldberg.

"Multiple observers" means that 5+ birders have reported the same total.
